Conquer Your Critical Inner Voice
with Lisa Firestone, Ph.D.
Definition of the Voice

The critical inner voice refers to a well-integrated pattern of destructive thoughts toward our selves and others. The “voices” that make up this internalized dialogue are at the root of much of our maladaptive behavior. This internal enemy fosters inwardness, distrust, self-criticism, self-denial, addictions and a retreat from goal-directed activities. The critical inner voice effects every aspect of our lives: our self-esteem and confidence, our personal and intimate relationships, and our performance and accomplishments at school and work.
"To this day, I can hear my mother’s voice—harsh, accusing. ‘Lost your mittens? You naughty kittens! Then you shall have no pie!’"
FEIFFER
by JULES FEIFFER

I AM A CRITIC!

I AM NOT A BOOK, ART, THEATRE, FILM, MUSIC OR DANCE CRITIC.

I AM A BERUARD CRITIC.

A RESIDENT CRITIC WORKING INSIDE THE HEAD OF A BERUARD.

HE WAKES UP, I TELL HIM,
"YOU'RE LATE." AT THE OFFICE, I TELL HIM, "YOU'RE BEHIND." AT DINNER PARTIES I TELL HIM, "YOU'RE BORING."

WHEN HE FALLS IN LOVE I TELL HIM, "YOU'RE NOT GOOD ENOUGH."

ON OCCASION I GET TAKE ALL MORE REVIEWS AND ORDER ME OUT OF HIS HEAD.

SO I RIP OFF MY MASK AND SAY, "IS THAT THE WAY TO TALK TO YOUR MOTHER?"

What causes insecure attachment?

- Unresolved trauma/loss in the life of the parents statistically predict attachment style far more than:
  - Maternal Sensitivity
  - Child Temperament
  - Social Status
  - Culture
Implicit Versus Explicit Memory

- Implicit Memory
- Explicit Memory
How does disorganized attachment pass from generation to generation?

- Implicit memory of terrifying experiences may create:
  - Impulsive behaviors
  - Distorted perceptions
  - Rigid thoughts and impaired decision making patterns
  - Difficulty tolerating a range of emotions

Anti-Self System
The Fantasy Bond (core defense) is a self-parenting process made up of two elements: the helpless, needy child, and the self-punishing, self-nurturing parent. Either aspect may be extended to relationships. The degree of defense is proportional to the amount of damage sustained while growing up.

Exercise 1.4:
A Plan for Action

- Actions dictated by my critical inner voice

Examples:
“Have another piece of cake.”
“You should just be on your own.”
“You can’t trust anyone, so don’t get too close.”

- Actions to take that reflect the real me

Examples:
“I want to eat healthy and take care of myself.”
“I don’t want to be isolated and will seek out friends”
“I want to stay vulnerable in my close relationships.”
Poll #7: How many of you are aware of actions you take that go against your goals?
Exercise 2.1:
Seeing Your Parents Realistically
A. Describing Your Parents’ Traits and Behaviors

1. Did you experience any long-term separations from your parent or parents during your childhood? Through death? Divorce? Illness? If so, describe your reactions at the time.

2. What do you think your parents offered you that has been the most valuable to you in your adult life? Describe these traits, values, or ideals.

3. What faults or weaknesses did you dislike in your parent or parents? Describe these traits.

4. Were your parents strict or overly permissive in their discipline of you and your siblings? Describe an example of how they disciplined you.

The Therapeutic Process in Voice Therapy

Step I
Identify the content of the person’s negative thought process. The person is taught to articulate his or her self-attacks in the second person. The person is encouraged to say the attack as he or she hears it or experiences it. If the person is holding back feelings, he or she is encouraged to express them.

Step II
The person discusses insights and reactions to verbalizing the voice. The person attempts to understand the relationship between voice attacks and early life experience.
The Therapeutic Process in Voice Therapy

Step III
The person answers back to the voice attacks, which is often a cathartic experience. Afterwards, it is important for the person to make a rational statement about how he or she really is, how other people really are, what is true about his or her social world.

Step IV
The person develops insight about how the voice attacks are influencing his or her present-day behaviors.

Step V
The person then collaborates with the therapist to plan changes in these behaviors. The person is encouraged to not engage in self-destructive behavior dictated by his or her negative thoughts and to also increase the positive behaviors these negative thoughts discourage.

Guidelines for Further Developing a Meaningful Life

- Practice Being Generous in All Your Relationships
- Become Aware of Existential Realities
- Develop a Spiritual Perspective and Appreciate the Mystery of Existence
A human being is a part of a whole, called by us 'universe', a part limited in time and space. He experiences himself, his thoughts and feelings as something separated from the rest... a kind of optical delusion of his consciousness. This delusion is a kind of prison for us, restricting us to our personal desires and to affection for a few persons nearest to us. Our task must be to free ourselves from this prison by widening our circle of compassion to embrace all living creatures and the whole of nature in its beauty. Nobody is able to achieve this completely, but the striving for such achievement is in itself a part of the liberation and a foundation for inner security."
